Was she related (? Mother) to George Duncombe
Rector of Albury 1691-1714

The Duncumb family lived in Weston, Albury and Shere and were prominent in local affairs in the 16th and 17th centuries. George Duncomb, who became Rector of Albury in 1691, left £1.16s per year 'to be given in bread to the poor from Weston'. Charity Duncumb bequeathed income from local land to buy and distribute loaves amongst the poor of Albury. In 1705, the will of Olave Duncombe, widow of Henry Duncombe of Weston, established a charity which provided the poor children of Albury with apprenticeships. For other records relating to the charity, see GUHT/50/- and BR/OC/4/3/2 at SHC.

WESTON HOUSE by Carol Martin

Part of the manor of Gumshelve was sold to William Weston in the time of Edward I c1300. In 1520 it was sold to George Duncombe, whose family built a new house on the site in 1650, which was burnt down in 1720. In 1723 Mr Sturt bought the manor and built what is known as "the Palladian House", a U-shaped house facing E-W of stone with handsome portico to garden front, the North wing was for the servants and the South wing contained study, drawing & dining rooms and a boudoir. This was sold in 1820 to pay the Godshall families' debts & was bought by Henry Drummond, who pulled it down, because, it is said, he couldn't bear to have such a grand house within sight of his own!
